HISTORY

Astoria Studios has been making entertainment history for more than 75 years. After making its debut as Famous Players/Lasky on September 20, 1920, (later Paramount Studios), the studio became the home of productions starring Rudolph Valentino, Claudette Colbert, W.C. Fields, The Marx Brothers, Sylvia Sydney, D.W. Griffith, Gloria Swanson, and more.

In the years between the studio's current incarnation as Kaufman Astoria Studios and its earliest days, the property was transferred to the U.S. Army. It became the Signal Corps' Pictorial Center during World War II and helped to launch many careers including those of Paul Newman, Jack Lemmon and Milos Forman.

In the early 1970's the historic facility was saved by a non-profit foundation, now the American Museum of the Moving Image, and designated an American landmark by the U.S. Department of the Interior. In 1982, development of the Studio was awarded to George Kaufman.

Today, film and television stars such as Bill Cosby, Harrison Ford, Meryl Streep, Al Pacino, Mel Gibson, Demi Moore and the cast of Sesame Street are among the celebrities at work at Kaufman Astoria Studios. The facility boasts seven operating sound stages ranging in size from 3,200 square feet to over 26,000 square feet (the largest stage in the country East of Los Angeles).

The environment here is professional, creative, fun and exciting. Perhaps it's the tremendous diversity of the people and projects that come together here — on the set, in the Studio Cafe, or on the (complimentary) KAS Jitney as it travels back and forth to Manhattan throughout the day. There's a synergy here that makes things happen. After all, that's entertainment!

We hope you enjoy being part of the KAS "family." We hope that this guide will be a helpful reference for you during your time at KAS. Our safe and peaceful neighborhood is worth exploring. You'll find the best Greek restaurants this side of Athens, four-star Italian cafes, friendly shopkeepers, old fashioned bakeries, delis with the best bagels in New York, and stores you know such as The Gap, Blockbuster, etc.

THE JITNEY

The Jitney is a service provided free of charge by Kaufman Astoria Studios as a link to nearby central Manhattan. Updated Jitney schedules are available in the lobby for your convenience.

ASTORIA

Astoria, home of Kaufman Astoria Studios, is a multi-ethnic, vibrant and safe neighborhood in Queens with two separate subway lines (N,R) just minutes from 59th Street and Lexington Avenue in Manhattan.

It is an excellent place to live and work because of its diversity and quality services. The restaurants in the area are some of the best New York has to offer. On Broadway, 30th Avenue and Ditmars Boulevard, you can find everything you need from art supplies to video rentals. Ethnic specialty stores abound.

The heart of Astoria's commercial district is nearby Steinway Street. Most major shopping chains can be found here between 25th Avenue and 35th Avenue such as Express, Victoria's Secret, Starbucks, The Gap, Benetton, Blockbuster Video & NY & Company, as well as McDonald's, Kentucky Fried Chicken/Taco Bell, Wendy's and many others.

FOOD

Behind every great movie or TV show, there's a fantastic caterer.

No one knows this better than the staff of the Cafe. Boasting the best coffee in town, the Cafe staff serves up breakfast and lunch daily for hundreds of hungry actors, producers, directors and crew members in the historic Cafe dining room — the same place where Rudolph Valentino and Groucho Marx once dined.

The Cafe also offers catering on-set as well as on remote locations. They have travelled as far as Martha's Vineyard and on location throughout the New York Metropolitan area for films and tv remote shoots. Flexibility and experience in understanding a production's needs — along with their great coffee— are what sets The Cafe apart. Call ext. 5332 to speak with the manager for daily menus and about your catering needs.
